WINNERS

special grant program to help our traffic safety partners in Illinois prevent marijuana impaired driving through enforcement and education. Law enforcement agencies, prevention coalitions, and other non-profit organizations dedicated to promoting roadway safety can apply for funds to purchase equipment that will aid in the enforcement of DUI laws and educate the public about the dangerous level of impairment that can result from marijuana use. Attached are the impaired driving grant application and the general traffic safety grant application. Please send the completed grant application(s) and completed W9 to me not later than March 1, 2020.

On Thursday, January 30, the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety released a new study on marijuana and its prevalence in fatal traffic crashes in the state of Washington. The study revealed that since the drug was legalized in late 2012, the percentage of drivers in fatal crashes who were positive for active THC doubled – from 8.8 percent pre-legalization to 18 percent post-legalization. The presence of active THC is suggestive of recent marijuana use. The average number of THC-positive drivers involved in fatal wrecks annually also rose significantly. The study builds on 2016 Foundation research conducted after the state legalized recreational use of marijuana. Attached you will find the research along with a fact sheet summarizing the study.
